NATIONAL GUARD PASS IN REVIEW

Brilliant Field Spectacle Draws Cheers From 10,000 Throats

Across the greensward of the cavalry parade ground the Red Arrow flashed in the sun Sunday and delighted more than 10,000 camp visitors, including Gov. Alex. J. Groesbeck, many of whom had come from miles away to see the Thirty-second division regiments pass in review.

At 2:30 p. m. there were fully 2,000 automobiles in camp, filled with natives of Crawford county and the thousands who had come to see the military spectacle. The National Guard regiments went into formation on the parade ground in a line half a mile long and awaited the arrival of Governor Groesbeck and Major General Guy M. Wilson and his staff. When they arrived they rode the length of the khaki line and took their places at the reviewing post.

First in line of march was Brigadier-General John P. Schouten, of Grand Rapids, commanding the sixty-third infantry brigade. Behind General Schouten came the 125th infantry, followed by the 126th. Next came the 11th field artillery, commanded by Colonel Joseph H. Lewis, of Lansing, with their 75 mm. guns.

Next in line came Detroit's "million dollar" motorized regiment, the 189th field artillery, commanded by Colonel Heinrich A. Pickett. The drivers, with their crews, except the drivers, sitting with arms folded, at attention with the scarlet guidons streaming in the breeze, drew cheers and applause from the crowd.

The 10th medical regiment, commanded by Colonel John D. Buck, of Detroit, was next in line with its ambulances and Red Cross flags.

Last and far from least was the crack squadron of the 108th cavalry, commanded by Major Harold T. Weber of Royal Oak. Riding in beautiful line, their sabres glinting in the brilliant sunshine and their regiments of white and blue, the troopers stood out in contrast to the sick dark horses, the cavalry pleased the throngs more than any other outfit.

On their first time around, aided by their excellent band, the cavalry rode at a walk. The crowd cheered and then came around again at a canter. With the crowd applauding still louder, the troopers rode by once more at a gallop and then the last time around the crowd went wild when the troopers, flat in their saddles like jockeys, flashed past the reviewing stand at a charge.

One of the cavalrymen, while dashing by the last time, did a most brilliant bit of riding when his saddle came loose, and he shot down past the crowd at a breakneck pace riding in perfect form despite the dangerous equipment.

In the morning, memorial services were held and taps were blown for the gallant dead of the thirty-second division who gave their lives in service. Governor Groesbeck was expected to speak at the services, but when called upon, declined to make any remarks and Major S. W. McClelland of Monroe, chaplain of the 189th field artillery, was asked to speak, and delivered a short excellent address.

Beginning Monday, the camp settled down to finish its training period before next week. The 119th field artillery took the range and began firing problems with its 75's and the infantry regiments continued their combat problems leading up to the sham battle to be held later in the week. The camp will remain practically intact in personnel, except the 182nd, which is entrained Monday night, until Friday and Saturday when the regiments return to their armories.

Quantities of Food Used at Camp. Wives and mothers of the 4,000 guardsmen encamped here need have no apprehension that the soldiers are not being well fed when the imposing figures of the camp's ration list are seen.

During their stay in camp, the boys will do justice to 56,933 pounds of potatoes, which fit neatly into the mess kits along with 42,700 pounds of beef. At breakfast 10,980 pounds of bacon will satisfy the hungry guardsmen, who will also consume 40,000 pounds of bread helped out by 840 cans of jam and 8,050 pounds of butter.

Special Troops Win Cup.

Other provisions for the guardsmen which is fast disappearing three times a day consists of 7,000 pounds of onions, 6,100 cans of tomatoes, 6,100 pounds of navy beans, 2,200 pounds of rice, 3,100 pounds of coffee, 144 gallons of pickles, 1,300 pounds of sugar, 95 gallons of vinegar, 800 pounds of salt and 4,000 cans of fruit.

As the result of their successful competition in the camp field, the special troops, Major John J. Ostrander of Detroit, commanding, retain permanent possession of the silver cup offered for the best athletic outfit in camp. The special troops won the cup three years running.

Detroit Men Start Back. Colonel Heinrich A. Pickett packed up his 189th field artillery Monday night and entrained for Detroit with the "million dollar" regiment. The trucks of the regiment left camp early Sunday and will leave the train in Detroit to take off their equipment. Colonel Pickett was most satisfied with the showing made by his men and equipment in camp and also with the remarkable overland journey from Detroit to here, a trip made most successfully by the 189th and one the like of which has not been made by any other heavy artillery regiment in the country.

The 15th field artillery began firing on the range Monday with their 75 mm. guns and continued until Wednesday. In the infantry regiments combat problems are proceeding and will lead up to the big offensive, a sham battle, put on by the doughboys later in the week.

GOVERNOR VISITS MILITARY CAMP

ALSO TALKS SATURDAY NIGHT TO GRAYLING PEOPLE

Governor Alex. J. Groesbeck arrived in Grayling Saturday afternoon and was met by a committee made up of staff officers of Gen. Wilson, and others high in rank, and a troop of cavalry.

From Grayling he was escorted into camp where he received the Governor's salute and was accorded a warm reception. At 5:30 o'clock he was the guest of Mayor T. W. Hanson and Henry A. Bauman at a dinner party given at the Hanson dining hall at Lake Margrethe. About 40 were present at this function and enjoyed a fried chicken dinner.

At 8:00 o'clock the Governor was scheduled to speak on politics from the band stand in Grayling. Grayling band was present and played a number of selections before Mayor T. W. Hanson presented the Governor. Mayor Hanson stated that it was an opportune time for the governor to get acquainted with and get first hand facts about the conditions of the northern Michigan cities, such as Grayling, that are just finishing their lumbering days.

Governor's Address.

Gov. Groesbeck greeted the audience and began a talk that lasted for about an hour and a half, during which time he told of some of the things he had tried to do for Michigan. He said in part as follows: "This audience is assembled not to pay respect to me but because you are interested in the problems of the state. I am glad to be out at camp and also to look over matters of interest to you."

He paid a tribute to Mr. R. Hanson for his gift to the state of a turkey reservation. He mentioned the time when T. W. Hanson and others came to Lansing to help to get the state to accept the military site, when some of the legislators feared that it was accepted that the state would lose some taxes, while now that land is worth a million dollars.

Coming down to politics, he said that the Republicans had two candidates for governor of which he was one of them, while the Democrats had one, "Green and Constock," he said, "seemed to have a common cause, a common complaint, and I have been confronted by the complaints of these two gentlemen."

There were many things—mid-air, around and have found nothing that cannot be met. I haven't found anything of real value in their criticism."

"They have criticized the highway department that has been working to make highways for the state, saying that they have been built for political purposes. The present program was planned two and one-half years ago. We planned a program to meet the requirements as needed, never intended them for political purposes."

"I have tried to plan that the public receive 100 per cent value for every dollar expended."

"Michigan has established highway work on a basis equal to any other state in quality and efficiency. During the past two years costs have decreased. Within 4 or 5 years a trunk line system of 1,700 miles has been built. There has been constant improvement."

He made some charges of unfairness against some of the daily newspapers of the state. One of the reasons that I am in this campaign is to tell the people the facts. There is a group of reactionaries determined to drive me out of the race by publication of misrepresentation. I hadn't intended to run again for governor. I been busy studying out the problems of the state. They have attempted to smear every department of the state. Everything and every branch of the state government has been belittled. They haven't advanced one single statement of value."

He tried to explain the situation about the much discussed Grand Blanc highway in Genesee county that Fred W. Green, opposing candidate for governor says cost $200,000. "This falsehood," said the Governor, "has been republished several times and will never be retracted. What I have said of the Grand Blanc road is true in every thing they have said. The question is whether or not the government of Michigan has been conducted in a business way and in the way you wanted it to be conducted."

The state administrative board act was passed in 1921 to inject more business and there was not a single objection in the legislature. The board was set up in 1922. It was a four or five hundred thousand. Never during this campaign has my opponent suggested a substitute. "There are some real issues in Michigan. Highway financing is one of the most important things we have to deal with. Timber will be gone soon and there will be nothing in the north except waste land. I don't recall anything that is so meaningful as highways. I would have paved roads where heavy traffic demands."

He spoke of the widening of Woodward avenue in Detroit in order to care for the traffic. Michigan citizens voted 50 million dollars for the improvement of these roads and interest there has never been one cent raised through property tax. The weight and gas tax are taking care of these sums."

He told of how, while on a visit to Mexico, two certain gentlemen got busy and claimed that financial were so successful that they would build next year. Later these two gentlemen admitted that there were five million dollars in the road fund. And now we are going to have from 15 to 17 million dollars for road construction. "Never before has there been criticism made of this work."

"There wasn't a single institution in Michigan that was being properly conducted. We have spent 23 millions to correct these conditions. This expense is paid by corporation taxes. Why was it necessary to do this? Because this matter had been passed along from one administration to another."

"There is raised from property tax 17 million dollars. Of this amount Crawford county paid the state in the year 1925, $7,000. In the year 1924, this county received from the primary school fund $12,750 and in 1925, $15,844."

The state legislature appropriated 27½ million dollars with which to run the state government, and we so ran it that we were able to spend $1,450,000 less than we were authorized to spend."

"It is stated by my opponent that 70 game wardens were added to the conservation department to help out in the campaign. The fact is that there are thirty less wardens this year than in former years."

The Governor read a letter written by the president of the Michigan Sportsmen's Congress endorsing his administration. He also told of some of the things being done for the state park system and the fish hatcheries, in which we have made a steeper advance than any other state in the U. S. He hopes to see the conservation department a real substantial department, in order to meet the demands

ST. MARY'S FAIR WELL ATTENDED

St. Mary's third annual church fair has come and gone and besides being a very enjoyable affair, was a wonderful success financially. The proceeds amounted to something over $1100.

Everything was carried out as planned and in a most pleasing manner. The decorations of the gymnasium and the paper streamers together with the tastefully decorated booths made the school gymnasium an attractive place for the affair. Early in the afternoon the crowd began coming. The booths filled with beautiful home-made things were the attraction and at 4:30 o'clock the spot where supper was being served by a large crowd, many of whom remained the evening to dance. E. J. Hanson on the bill of fare was delicious and those in charge are to be commended for the manner in which they handled the large crowd.

There was hardly standing room at supper when the crowd started arriving for the dance, which continued until 12:00 o'clock, at which time the crowd was fully as large as at the beginning. During the dance light lunches were served at a long counter, which added much to the pleasantness of the affair.

The articles that were to be given away went to the following persons: Clothes Hamper—Mrs. Louis Kessler. Cake—Lieutenant at Camp Grayling. Bedroom set—Mrs. Worm, Detroit. Ton of Coal—M. Sullivan, Grayling. Load of Wood—Jerry Sherman, Grayling.

100 pounds sugar—George Valley, Chubbuck. Barrel of Flour—Mrs. Esbern Hanson. Quilt—Gentleman from Fowler, Mich.

The fair was a decided success and besides swelling the church funds many people were entertained in a very pleasant afternoon and evening.

LOCALS SPLIT WITH COLORED TEAM

The Grayling Independents broke even on the two games series with the Chicago Maroons last Saturday and Sunday.

The locals took the Saturday affair by hard hitting in the last part of the game, scoring four runs in the seventh and five in the eighth inning. "Babe" Laurent pitched a nice game and was well supported in all departments.

Sunday's game was much better even though we did lose. Clarence Johnson pitched this game and deserved to win. "Johnny" was in great form, striking out two batters and allowing only seven hits. A couple bad errors gave the visitors two runs they did not earn and some poor base running in the last inning helped to bring defeat.

In the last inning four men were at bat and they made three hits but two were caught at third trying to stretch their hits. Elmer Johnson caught both games.

A Barringer of Midland played third base on Saturday and at short during Sunday's game. J. Johnson of Flint played center in Sunday's game. Both played very well.

Score by innings: Sunday game. Grayling.....2 0 0 0 0 0 1-3 Chicago.....0 0 0 0 0 1 2-5 Line-up.

"In order to get away from old style politics I have had to break with friends."

Lieut. Gov. Welsh Talks. Lieut. Gov. Welsh of Grand Rapids was present and was given an opportunity to talk. He told of his service in the state legislature, eight years of which was in the house and during the last two of those sessions he presided as speaker. And for the past two years he has been in the lieutenant governor's chair and as such presided over the senate. He said that he recalled how a small group were trying to study out the problems that were piling up in Michigan. They tried to work out a solution and in 1921 Groesbeck was chosen governor. He had had several terms as attorney general and his experience had enabled him to lay before the legislature a program that was to inject business principles into it. He succeeded in lopping off 70 commissions and showed the legislature way out of their troubles.

Mr. Welsh heaped some bitter criticism against the political opponents of himself and Gov. Groesbeck, and referred to them as "political hijackers."

Trap Shooters

There was a good attendance at the trap last Sunday morning at Lake Margrethe, Carl P. Mickelson leading the contest with twenty-two targets. A number of good average scores were made, some of the green shoots were hanging up good scores, while some of the more experienced shooters slipped off on a number of birds. The second military ball given by the 107th medical regiment under the direction of Major Thomas Keating and Capt. L. Smith at the school gymnasium, Tuesday evening, was a very fine affair.

Dancing began at 8:00 o'clock. Grayling time and music was furnished by the special troops orchestra and the 107th medical regiment band, they alternating so that dancing was continuous with no dull moments. Both did themselves proud, as the music was excellent.

There was a fine large crowd and everyone entered into the spirit of the evening and enjoyed themselves very much.

The school gymnasium looked very attractive with its decorations of red and white, the work of shaping the crepe paper being all hand work, and the arrangement was very artistic. A large "Welcome" sign, placed under the balcony at the east end of the room, greeted the crowd.

During the evening a prize was given to the best Charleston dancer, and Private Kyle of the Camp was awarded the prize.

The affair was conducted in a most gentlemanly manner and those present felt that they had spent a most pleasant evening as guests of the 107th medical corps. This will be an annual affair with this organization who expect to make even more elaborate plans for a similar affair to be given during the encampment in 1927.

APPRECIATION. We wish to thank Mr. McGilvery, Mr. W. Olsen, C. J. McNamara, Earle Hewitt, Louis Kessler, Mrs. Maurice Gorman, Mrs. Shallowood and other individuals who so liberally donated to our booth, making it a good success. To Emil Niederer who so kindly donated the ice used.

BUSINESS PACE IS MAINTAINED

(By Wayne W. Putnam, Director Public Relations, Union Trust Co., Detroit.)

Business is good with prospects of continuing improvement during the next few months. The truth is that the present volume of business activity was unexpected. Many people, surprised at this mid-summer revival, are asking the reason. Possibly there is no reason beyond the fact that business men and the general public are, to use the vernacular, "saving wood." Economy, business foresight and easy money are having as much to do with it as anything else. There is no reason to believe that the present pace of business is due to artificial quickening.

The first half of the year having turned out satisfactorily, the question naturally arises whether the last half of the year will equal or exceed it. Prospects are distinctly encouraging. Business sentiment is good, bank clearings are at high figures, crops harvested and in prospect are very good and farmers on account of their improved purchasing power are more optimistic than a year ago, fundamental conditions in practically all industries are sound, labor is employed and well paid, living costs are comparatively stable and the iron and steel trade are in good position. In addition, car loadings during the next three months promise to be large on account of the movement of bumper crops.

Michigan Industries Active. Michigan industries as a whole are in very good shape. Production is holding up well with prospects for increased activity in August. Many new high records of production were established during the last seven months. Iron-ore shipments from upper lake ports have been large during the last two months. Especially good manufacturing reports have been received from Flint and Grand Rapids.

Production of automobiles and trucks for the first half of 1926, exceeded 2,342,000, as compared with 2,056,000 cars for the first six months of 1925. With the new changes in models and the lower level of prices it is not at all unlikely that the production of the last half of 1925 will be equaled if not exceeded, thereby establishing a new record.

Building operations are at good levels, throughout practically the entire state. Detroit, Grand Rapids and Flint are in the lead.

Wholesale Trade Steady. The volume of trade at wholesale has been holding relatively steady. Prospects for the immediate future are favorable. The purchasing power of the farmer is going to play an important part. Dry goods sales are not as favorable as other lines. Hardware is off about 5 per cent.

Over 80 per cent of the banks report money sufficient for local needs. Rates continue easy and the borrowing demand is good. Bankers are retiring their bills payable. If the present improvement in business continues, some stiffening in rates in the fall will not be unlikely.

E. J. LEENHOUTS PROMOTED. Mr. E. J. Leenhouts of the Agricultural Relations department, New York Central lines, who is here assisting in the details of the boys and girls club encampment at Grayling has been promoted from the position of agricultural agent to that of general agricultural agent with headquarters at Chicago. His territory consists of the six states included in the New York Central system west of Buffalo. It is taking the place of Mr. W. H. Hill who has been promoted to the position of assistant manager of the New York Central stockyards with headquarters at East Buffalo.

Mr. Leenhouts has been with the Michigan Central for the past six years, starting as dairy agent in 1920, promoted to assistant agricultural agent in 1922, and to agricultural agent in 1924. His successor has not been announced.

GRANGE PICNIC. Crawford County Grange will hold their annual picnic on Saturday, September 4th, at the home of Hugo Schreiber Sr., in Sigsbee, 8 miles east of Grayling. Everyone is cordially invited. Come and bring along your basket. 8-19-3

Thomas Boyle, 38 years old, has been sentenced to serve three years at the Michigan State Prison at Jackson after pleading guilty to entering St. Stephen's Catholic church of Port Huron with intent to rob the votive box. Information presented to Judge Harvey Tappan, who sentenced Boyle, by the police shows that the prisoner is wanted in Grand Rapids, Ann Arbor, Detroit, and Canadian cities for similar offenses. Boyle made a specialty of robbing votive boxes and other coin boxes in Catholic churches, officers say.

Leonard Templer, gasoline truck driver, was perhaps fatally burned when Louis Murphy, who was standing near the truck as it discharged its supply of gasoline at a service station at Edmore, is said to have started a match to light a cigarette. The gasoline was ignited and Templer was surrounded by flames. Murphy, fearing an explosion might cause a disastrous fire, jumped into the driver's seat of the truck and drove the flaming vehicle to the village limits, where the fire was extinguished with chemicals.

The manner in which he acquired the liquor remained a mystery for several days. It was stated, finally, nurses examined a cast placed upon his hip which was fractured in an automobile accident and discovered a bottle partly filled with liquor. It is said.

Approximately $16,500,000 must be withdrawn at once from the 200 banks which are state depositories to permit the distribution of the state primary school fund to the counties. According to Frank B. McKay, state treasurer, there is about $22,000,000 on deposit, including all classes of funds. The withdrawal of the primary school fund will leave a balance of only about $5,500,000, a considerably smaller surplus than was on hand last year and in previous years.

The state public utilities commission has approved a permit authorizing the United States Trucking Service to operate freight carrying vehicles from Port Huron to Detroit. The route will be by way of Algoma, Marine City and St. Clair. The company has been doing a contract business for some time. Other permits granted were for the Davis Truck company from Port Huron to Crosswell and J. W. Armstrong, from Saginaw to Bad Axe.

H. D. Arnold, general passenger agent of the Goodrich Transit company, has confirmed reports of the purchase of the steamer Theodore Roosevelt. Abandonment of the Southern Michigan Light & Power company operating near Hudson, by the Consumers Power company has been authorized by the state public utilities commission. No issuance of securities to finance the merger and improvement will be allowed.

Superintendent of Police A. A. Carroll, of Grand Rapids, has called a halt to motorists whose originality in tire cap slogans has led them into display of suggestive banners. "We will ask for warrants if exhibition of suggestive slogans is continued," said the police superintendent.

Unable to raise money to buy a license for his automobile, A. G. Trantland, 55 years old, of Lathrop, Mich., is said to have manufactured a pair of plates so skillfully that it was not until a mortgage on the car was foreclosed that the forgery was discovered. Trantland was arrested by Dan Van Wagner, deputy inspector, for the Michigan department of state and bound over to Circuit Court on a charge of counterfeiting. Van Wagner believes the case is the first of its kind in Michigan.

Michigan cannerymen, co-operating with the growers and State and Federal officials, are waging a campaign to stamp out the cherry maggot. This maggot has made its appearance in Michigan for the first time, and unless controlled will bring a vast loss to growers. Cannerymen hold that it is up to the growers to drive out the pest by spraying. The cherry crop in the section around Hart is about 25 per cent normal, according to the growers. In the Grand Traverse district the yield is much better.

Asparagus grows. The apples, and potatoes, may need to be graded according to size and quality. In the opinion of specialists at the Graham Horticultural Experiment Station near Grand Rapids, where tests are being made to determine the efficiency of various root stocks. Already a marked difference in the growth is evident. Plants from the large crowns are 25 to 40 per cent bigger than those from smaller roots. Station workers say the experiment may show it will pay farmers to discard "runty" asparagus crowns at planting time.

Plans are under way at Ypsilanti for a celebration August 20 of the opening of the last link in the Ypsilanti-Saline pavement on M-23. The route of M-23 follows the old Chicago turnpike, rich in legend and history which formerly was a military road connecting Fort Wayne at Detroit with Fort Dearborn, at Chicago. The new road will provide a route from Detroit to Chicago which will be about 35 miles shorter than the present route through Kalamazoo and St. Joseph.

Ice cream manufacturers are proving a source of revenue to Michigan fruit growers. One Detroit cannery purchased 10 car loads of South Haven strawberries this season to use in manufacturing ice cream. Other creameries in middle western states made similar purchases. The peach harvest soon will be in full swing and growers are expecting ice cream manufacturers to purchase many carloads of the fruit. There is said to be a growing demand in the cities for fresh fruit ice creams.

Seven Cass County residents poisoned by eating grain and pie crusts at the Levi Hess farm, 10 miles east of Dowagiac, have been pronounced "fairly well out of danger" by physicians. Mrs. Hess explained that when she discovered the flour supply was low she emptied a sack of poison into the flour bin, believing it was flour. She did not realize her mistake until the sick became ill. Examination of the sack revealed it had contained poison intended to kill potato bugs.

Derwin said he considered himself a citizen until recently. He had voted regularly, he said, since the Civil War and his citizenship never was questioned. He was born in Ireland.

With the oil development in the Saginaw valley only about nine months old it has been estimated by local men that the sum spent so far to finance the production is approximately $500,000. To offset this investment it is estimated that the production now established in the 19 producing wells, will bring about $2,000,000 annually into the treasuries of the various producing companies. At the present time there are about 25 wells being drilled.

Fifty-five officers and men of the Grand Rapids Naval contingent on the Ninth Naval district left Grand Rapids Friday, August 13, for Philadelphia where they were scheduled to board the United States torpedo boat destroyer Smith Thompson for a 15 day cruise. Farm Bureau Notes

R. D. Bailey, Co. Agricultural Agent

Let us, then, be up and doing.

With a heart for any fate,
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait.

—Longfellow, in "A Psalm of Life."

Still Achieving

"Still achieving, still pursuing," that's a good ideal. Many a farmer would do well, not only by himself, but by his wife and children, and his community, too, if he had those few words well in mind. "Still achieving."

Peck Measures

We have among us certain farmers who, with no better soil, climate or markets than their neighbors, have a splendid acreage of good crops.

We could mention the names of two young men in this county, who, practically single-handed, have in a staggering acreage of good, clean crops.

We have other men who, it seems, would face the coming winter with some spirit.

Some seem to move forward. Some seem to tread all day in a peck measure and never get anywhere.

It seems as though the latter class would see and copy the better methods of their brother farmers.

Chance Right Now

August is going to be a critical test of the calibre of many a farmer. As August is used, so will the die be cast for them for another year.

Why So?

A farmer who has decided, with that grim determination that accomplishes things, that he is going to get something for his time and labor, that he is going to have a clean, neat, thrifty, paying farm, that farmer is going to do certain things in August. Failure to do them is going to compel him to travel in the same old rut next summer, to run around in the same old profitless circle. Some of these things are:

- (1) Will at once cut weeds before they seed his farm.
- (2) Will plow under, with chain, the weeds in uncropped fields, for valuable green manure.
- (3) Will, even at expense of a lot of hand work, keep corn or potato ground very clean, to put time there this fall, to put alfalfa there next spring.
- (4) Will cultivate two (2) bushels of rye and twenty (20) pounds of vetch per acre in corn land at last cultivation on land not to be used for alfalfa next spring.
- (5) He will be honest with the land next spring and plow his vetch and rye under for the good of the soil.

Humus

These green manure crops are almost the life blood of the soil.

Humus, green manure, is called humus. When humus gets low in our soil we do not get far in farming. Each crop we take off destroys a vast amount of humus, which must be restored by us.

The more humus, the more fertility. The more humus, the more water the soil can hold to provide against dry weather.

The more humus, the more the soil bacteria can thrive and convert plant food into the form in which crops can use it.

Says the United States Department of Agriculture:

"Tests have shown that while 100 pounds of sand can hold only 25 pounds of water, and 100 pounds of clay 60 pounds of water, the same weight of humus or decaying organic matter can retain 190 pounds of water. The addition of humus to sandy soils or others deficient in organic material, is therefore an effective means of increasing their moisture-holding capacity."

I saw one of the best and most successful farmers of Otsego county plowing down a hip-high crop of sweet clover for humus.

Archie Howse, one of the most successful farmers of our county, plows under stuff for humus.

August is the month this year for us to prepare for humus.

Said it Well

Shakespeare said it well when he said that there is a tide in the affairs of men, which, seized at its ebbs, leads on to fortune; seized at its flow, leads on to disappointment and failure.

Gentlemen: "Let us, then, be up and doing," before August is gone.

What the "Fruit Belt" Says

"The farmer does business with a bank called the soil. The banker is Mother Nature. The bank account is the humus and fertility in the soil. Too many farmers do nothing but check on their bank account in the soil bank. Mother Nature is a careful banker and she does not allow any farmer to overdraw his account, and for that reason some farmers are not able to cash a very large check in the form of crop yields from their soil bank."

"There are some farmers who make regular deposits of humus in their soil bank. This builds up their account and they are able to cash a much larger check on Mother Nature's soil bank than the majority of farmers."

I'll say that the "Fruit Belt" said "a mouthful."

Another Farm Home

Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, having bravely and well, fought the battle of life, from heavy standing timber to a stump-free, beautiful, productive farm, have sold the farm to their son Fred and wife. Instead of going to town to "rust and fret around Mr. and Mrs. Anderson have done wisely and have reserved an acre on the southwestern corner of the farm, where they will continue to live among the family scenes, grown so dear, in a new home named "Sunnyside" by the daughter Dorothy.

Mure Trees

Miss Dorothy, true to a ruling instinct to adorn the home, has already planted ten trees, selected and brought from the woods and planted by her.

It will be remembered that last year we chronicled the fact that Miss Dorothy selected in the woods, dug, brought and planted seventeen maple trees along the frontage of the old home.

Your county agent saw those 1925 trees a few days ago, and squinted down the row. For wise selection, size and being set in a straight row, they can't be beaten.

Improvements

(1) Tony Nelson is having a new drive well put down on his Burton farm, about four feet from the first well. It is planned to pump with gasoline engine so when the plunger goes down in one well it will rise in the other.

(2) Mr. Nelson has bought the Dave Raymond farm, and is stamping it to its great improvement. We venture that it will soon raise more in one year than it has raised in five in the past.

(3) Andrew Mortenson has a splendid catch and stand of alfalfa on each of two fields sowed this spring.

Farmers may well rejoice over the splendid stand and growth of his new field of eight acres of alfalfa "thick as hair on a dog."

(4) Two men (names to be mentioned in due time) are fighting—both the county agent for a car (45 to 50 tons) of lime each.

(5) C. C. Funk (Maple Forest) is arranging for a large field of wheat from certified Red Rock seed.

(6) George Annis and son Homer cut their large field of sweet clover with the binder, shocked it in long sheaves until cured, and are satisfied that that is the best way to handle it.

Safety

How hard can you push on a rope? You will some day be sorry, with an ugly bill coming your way on the other end of the rope. Better call at the county agent's office and see a "jockey stick" or "bull staff" or "leading staff" that makes safe the handling of a bull. Some of these days some of our farmers is going to get badly hurt, or worse, by one of these "gentle" bulls. How hard can you push a rope?

Good Ones for You

At the county agent's office are many kinds of interesting bulletins, ranging from how to deal with garden pests, to plans for handy kitchen. These are for you when you call.

Plans for hen houses and for every kind of farm structure, whether of wood or cement.

Plenty of Choice

When one Grayling concern ships in 800 pounds of butter in a week, and when egg crates are handled here by the dray load, we guess we are not a far wrong when we urge, advise, and beg farmers to do better in the cow and poultry business.

Can't Furnish 'Em

One of our farmers reports that he could have sold ten or a dozen of his surplus Holsteins if others near had had Holsteins, too, instead of a miscellaneous lot of "fringe-bred and speckled" cattle. A buyer came along and wanted a carload of Holsteins, but did not want to run all over the county to find them, nor to round them up.

Your county agent has received a call for prices on 20 grade Holsteins that will meet certain high specifications. The inquirer has heard that one cattle have been tested, and naturally wants cattle from clean territory.

MORE THAN MILLION IN ILLINOIS' SLUSH

Senate Committee Ends Chicago Hearing—Five Face Contempt Proceedings.

Neenah, Wis.—Blame for "primary scandals" in Illinois and Pennsylvania was laid to Senator Irvine L. Lenroot and other senators who voted to seat Senator Newberry of Michigan, by Senator Robert M. La Follette here.

Senator La Follette said these senators "broadcast to the world that seats in the senate were for sale."

Chicago—More than $1,000,000 spent in the primary and five witnesses threatened with contempt proceedings to be brought by the United States senate.

That was the score chalked up against Illinois as the senate investigating committee adjourned its Chicago hearing. Senator Robert M. La Follette returned to Wisconsin and Senator James A. Reed, chairman, to Missouri.

Senator Reed intimated that the committee may hold hearings in other states as evidence is revealed concerning excessive expenditures in election campaigns.

The summary of expenditures in the Illinois senatorial primary, as developed by the committee, is:

For McKinley	$381,091.72
For Smith	300,882.70
Democrat county state	183,208.10
Democrat state	174,500.00
Brennan state	20,841.42
Anti-Saloon league	40,000.00
Total	$1,027,614.02

Those who will be reported to the senate as refusing to answer questions are:

- Samuel Insull, traction magnate.
- Daniel F. Schuyler, attorney for Insull.
- Edward H. Wright, colored member of the state commerce commission.
- Whitely Col. Frank L. Smith, successful Republican candidate, is chairman.
- Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney.
- Thomas V. Cunningham, clerk of the Court of General Sessions in Philadelphia.

Cunningham, on a salary of $8,000 a year, admitted donating $50,000 to the campaign fund of William S. Vare, successful Republican nominee for the United States senate from that state, but refused to state where he got the money.

He was known during the Washington inquiry into the Pennsylvania primary as the "lost witness," because he could not be reached with a subpoena then, and was brought here later to give his testimony.

Crowe, Wright, Insull and Schuyler refused to divulge information regarding campaign funds, their defense being that the funds on which they refused to testify were not used in the senatorial primary, but for local issues only.

Chairman Reed declared that the witnesses to decide at the close of the hearing the Missouriian said:

"Some of these gentlemen may yet face a jail."

Gertrude Ederle, First Woman to Swim Channel

Kingsdown, England—Gertrude Ederle, the American mermaid, not only conquered the English channel—the first woman in the world to accomplish the feat—but her time of 14 hours and 34 minutes is a record.

Miss Clarabelle Barrett, another New York girl, failed in a similar attempt a few days ago, although she got within 2 miles of Cape Gris Nez, France, and had been in the water more than 21 hours.

G. O. P. Chooses Stewart to Succeed A. B. Cummins

Des Moines, Iowa—David W. Stewart, Sioux City lawyer and progressive Republican, is the choice of the Republican party of Iowa for the unfinished United States senate term of the late Albert B. Cummins.

He will go before the voters in the November election as the candidate for the short term. Col. Smith V. Brookhart, the party's primary nominee, will run for the full six-year term.

First River Cargo in 20 Years Down Missouri

Kansas City, Mo.—The first cargo of river freight from up the Missouri river in more than 20 years was brought here when the steamboat B. A. Douglas docked at the municipal wharf with 25 tons of machinery to be used in government work on the Missouri river. The Douglas came from Sioux City, Iowa.

Secretary Mellon in Rome

Rome.—The belief persists in official circles that before Secretary Mellon's departure from Rome important financial matters will be discussed with Italian officials.

Guts $89,050 Derby Check

Saratoga, N. Y.—Edward R. Bradley, owner of Boot to Boot, which won the American derby at Washington park, Homewood, Chicago, has received the reward for the classic, a check for $89,050.

British Parliament Adjourns

London.—Unless the coal strike situation demands an earlier meeting, the house of commons, which adjourned, will not meet again until November 9.

HOME, DAD AND THE BOY

By FRANK H. CHELEY

The Conscientious Dad

MAY his tribe increase! He is the one Dad in scores who really recognizes the full responsibility of fathering a modern American boy.

He is eager for constructive suggestions and is glad of help from anywhere.

Each year sees a larger number of such Dads—and a correspondingly better crop of boys.

He is the man who is constantly seeking the best, physically, mentally, socially and spiritually, in order that he may pass it on to his boys.

He knows that most boys live up to Dad's estimate of them; treat them contemptuously, they become contemptible; trust them, and they become trustworthy; recognize their growing manliness, and you multiply.

The conscientious Dad probably will not have so many Lodges attend his funeral, but a real boy, well started toward manhood, will miss him mightily and hold him in fondest memory.

And when the One Great Scorer comes to write against Dad's name, he'll note—not money gained or lost, but how he played the boy game.

HANDS OFF, IS U. S. POLICY IN MEXICO

Plea for Severance of Diplomatic Relations Is Turned Down.

Mexico City.—President Calles has vetoed the pushing of the charges against Archbishop Mora Del Rio for his published statements criticizing the government's religious policy.

The President's decision followed extended conferences with the government legal authorities.

Washington.—The State department has refused to act on the request of the Knights of Columbus that diplomatic relations with Mexico be severed as a result of the church war.

Secretary of State Kellogg, it was learned, replied that this government must still consider the Mexican religious controversy a strictly internal affair and must continue a policy of hands off.

It also was learned that any action taken by the United States will be based upon Mexico's antislavery laws, which are the subject of many American protests and are again reaching a critical stage. It is this matter and not the church issue which is bringing Ambassador Sheffield back to the United States to urge a stronger Mexican policy.

The Knights of Columbus protest was presented by Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia. He was accompanied by Treasurer Dan J. Callahan of Washington. The protest was based on a resolution adopted at the Philadelphia convention August 8.

The resolution advocated immediate severance of diplomatic relations, lifting of the embargo on arms and a move to "eradicate sovietism next door to America."

It was said the department thus far has received none of the reports of outrages against American citizens on which the Knights of Columbus protest was based.

There are several official protests already lodged with the Mexican government on the subject of her antislavery laws. The latest was delivered last week.

Ambassador Sheffield's conferences with President Calles will mark the most critical point in determining the course of American policy in Mexico.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS

The shipping board has decided not to offer for sale at this time the American Palmetto line, operating between southern and European ports.

Regulations designed to prevent import of live stock suffering from disease have been published. The regulations, which affect the United States and Mexico similarly, were drafted by representatives of the two nations.

United States Treasury officials, it was reported, are preparing to resume negotiations with Greece for the settlement of her $55,000,000 war debt to this country. Previous negotiations were broken off about three months ago.

Poor women of the nation's capital are too tough. That was the conclusion of a police trial bond, which fined two of them $25 each on charges of false arrest and rough handling brought by Mrs. Loretta Marx.

Rev. Dr. Walden Meyer, canon of the Washington cathedral, is dead at Gloucester, Mass., where he was spending the summer. A native of Washington, Doctor Meyer was a graduate of Harvard and Oxford.

Illinois Primary Law Is Held to Be Invalid

Dixon, Ill.—The Illinois primary election laws were held invalid and unconstitutional by three judges sitting en banc in the Lee Circuit court here. Their decision, if sustained by the Supreme court, will wipe out the entire system of making party nominations by direct primaries in Illinois.

The basis of the suit and of the decision is that equal representation in county conventions, and consequently in state and judicial conventions, is impossible under the existing law.

The case will go to the state Supreme court in October on an appeal by State Attorney Mark C. Keller of Lee county. George C. Dixon, county lawyer and grandson of the founder of the town of Dixon, says he is confident the Supreme court will sweep the primary laws from the statute books.

Dixon's attack is the first comprehensive effort that has been made to knock out the general and legislative primary acts of 1910, successors to the nominating laws of 1905, 1906 and 1908, which were nullified one by one by the Supreme court of Illinois shortly after their passage.

Why I'm going to the Greater MICHIGAN STATE FAIR

By Guy S. Joe

HOW FAIRS GOT STARTED.

The other day I got curious about fairs, so I got reading about them. Fairs are pretty old. Princes and magistrates used to encourage fairs in Europe so people could trade goods at them. Domesday Book says fairs were started by King John in 1204. The first agricultural fair in this country was started by Elkanah Watson, of Albany, New York, in 1819. The Michigan State Fair was founded in 1849 at Detroit. It moved later to Grayling, then to Lansing, and then back to Detroit again. Its primary purpose is educational. You can learn a lot at the State Fair. You can get a picture of what the farmers of the state are accomplishing and a lot of new ideas and inspiration for the coming year. That's why I'm going to it in September.

PROGRESS OF THE GREATER MICHIGAN STATE FAIR

The Agricultural Fair is the predominant type of fair in this country. The Greater Michigan State Fair is primarily a Farmer's Fair but it is of equal interest to the city man. Every citizen of Michigan who takes pride in his own state should know something about its agricultural prosperity, its rich natural resources and its future possibilities. To learn a great deal about the state as well as enjoy a royal good time, the International Champion Shropshire Ram shows International Champion Shropshire Ram.

Who Was Swedenborg?

Emanuel Swedenborg, the son of a bishop, was the great Swedish scientist, philosopher and theologian, whose vast range caused Emerson to term him the "Universal Genius of scholars." Dr. Parker, Cadman, recently named him the "Universal Genius of Sweden, he mastered all the sciences of his time, and wrote the most useful books on metallurgy, minerals, geology, astronomy, and the human brain. His life search was for the human soul. How his spiritual senses were opened, after he was 50 years of age, that he might reveal the human soul, the life after death, and the Bible itself, may be read in the above named, uplifting, useful books.

Good Business

Trust people. Believe in people. Make a hobby of people. You'll be cheated—yes—many times. But in the long run you'll win all that the cynics and pessimists lose. The new definition of business is Personal Service. If you are pleased to do pleasant things for people, then you are a business man of the new sort—Curbies.

Excellent Idea

Let's get back to the good old American point of view. That view is honorable—that it pays to play the game honestly—that it is unmanly to suggest benefits without contributing to the common welfare; then we'll have self-respect and prosperity.—Williamson Gritt.
